Alfred Cookman* We have been induced to prepare this brief life of our esteemed friend and brother, Alfred Cookman, to meet a long-felt need; viz., a comprehensive account of this holy man, adapted to the great mass of the Church whom he loved, and who love and revere his memory. The late Dr. H. B. Ridgaway, some years ago, wrote a most exhaustive life of this good man, which was, in all respects, worthy of the scholarly author. It was a book of nearly 500 pages, published by the Harpers, and sold at $2 per copy. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Excerpt from The Life of the Rev. Alfred Cookman: With a Brief Account of His Father, the Rev. George Grimston Cookman I have been asked to write' a few words by way of preface to an abridged edition of the Life of. Alfred Cookman, 'commending it to English readers. I comply cheerfully; and there is a' fitness in my compliance, arising out of the fact that during my residence in Canada, I had opportunities - alas! Only too few-of 'personal acquaintance and intercourse with that holy man, and out of the further fact that Dr. Ridgaway, the accomplished biographer, who has wrought his task of love in a way which leaves nothing to be desired, allows me to call him my friend. Alfred Cookman: With Some Account of His Father, the Rev. George Grimston Cookman* The lives of the good and great are the heritage of the ages. While they are with us they enrich us with our choicest treasures. When they depart from us they bequeath the still richer legacy of the memory of their noble deeds and exalted virtues - richer, because what was little and ignoble in them perishes with their dust; while only what was good and pure remains, taking on greater lustre after their translation. From their thrones in the heavens they shed down upon us a more potent influence than that which they excited when they were journeying the vale of our earthly suffering with us. They do not more really live in their far-off homes than in our memories and fond affections. We do not see them or touch them - much as we long to - but we feel their presence and power. We persuade ourselves that invisibly they linger in our homes as ministering angels - if not sharing our sorrows, at least watching in loving vigils over us. As when they were alive we wanted every one to know and love them, so, being dead, we desire to transmit to unborn ages the knowledge of them. The desire, I take it, is not more natural than beautiful - not more honoring to the dead than ennobling to the living.
